Lawrence Way, Bulldozer Operator, Killed January 21

Mr. Larry Way, age 43 years, a former resident of Coleman, but late of Lundbreck, was killed instantly on Thursday, January 21, when the machine he was operating dragged and crushed him.

While there were no eye-witnesses to the accident, it is believed Mr. Way's bulldozer stalled while he was working on a municipal bridge project two miles east of Pincher Creek.

As far as can be ascertained the operator got off his seat and tried to start the motor, and during his attempts, it is believed the motor came to life while the machine was in gear. Indications are that the machine dragged the operator for a short distance before it passed over his body. Another workman said the bulldozer going around uncontrolled and when he went to investigate he found Mr. Way's body.

Funeral services were held in St. Chad's Anglican Church, Lundbreck, on Monday, January 25th at 2 p.m. Rev. Roger Burdon officiated and interment followed in the Livingstone cemetery. Hall's Funeral Services Ltd. was in charge of arrangements.

Born in London, England, February 22, 1916, he came to Canada in 1937. After living in this country for a short time he returned to England and joined the Imperial Army. He served in the Far East and was attached to the Indian Army Service Corps.

Mr. Way held the rank of major, and was in command of several mule companies, serving in Burma and various parts of India. He remained with the unit for an extra year to see that his men were properly demobilized.

In 1945 Mr. Way returned to Canada and settled in Coleman. He was employed as a construction contractor. In 1948 he moved to Lundbreck, where he resided until his death.

Deceased was particularly fond of Lundbreck and the foothills of the Livingstone Range country.

He was predeceased by his father, and is survived by his mother and a sister Mary, at Bishop's Lydney, Somerset, England, and a brother Nigel, who lives in Calgary.

White Collars Take 7-6 Victory Over D.P.W.

The hockey game held in the Coleman arena at 9 p.m. Tuesday evening between the Coleman White Collars and the Department of Public Works crew, wound up with the White Collars taking the honors with a 7-6 score.

Well over 100 persons saw the game that was played between the two teams in an attempt to boost the fund in aid of Muscular Dystrophy, which is being sponsored by the Coleman Volunteer Fire Brigade. The silver collection taken at the gate netted a total of $18.00, which boosted the fund to a grand sum of $182, which amount has been sent to headquarters.

Fire Chief Henry Zak, Jr., stated the objective had been set at $200 but the campaign fell some $17.00 short of the objective.

Of interest in the campaign is the fact that one cannister at the Kanakasis Service Station was filled to capacity and a second cannister netted the sum of $13.00, bringing the station's contribution to the fund to $32.00.

Fire Chief Zak has expressed his thanks to all who supported the worthy campaign in any way.

Owen's Store Being Enlarged

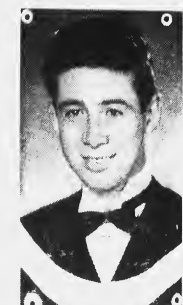

Extensive renovations are being made this month to Owen's Meat Market and Groceries in Coleman as the food store is being enlarged by a 15 by 45 foot section which will almost double the present floor-space in the building.

The extension is being added to the store so that a larger line of groceries can be offered the public and so that more floor space is available.

The meat department in the store will remain the same. The new addition is being painted white and will be lighted with new instant fluorescent lighting.

John Owen and son Leslie hope to have the new section in operation by the end of this month.

East Coleman Rec. Committee Is Formed

The East Coleman Ratepayers' committee held a special meeting in the Polish hall in East Coleman at 7 p.m. January 24 for the purpose of discussing the Alberta Government Recreational Grant for the outlying districts of Coleman.

William Kovach, M.L.A. of Hillcrest, was present at the meeting and gave an informative talk to the meeting, outlining the second part of the provincial government's five-year plan which embraced the section regarding recreation.

As a result of the meeting the ratepayers formed a Recreational committee comprising Steve Mrs. secretary; Alex Sekula, Bill Skura, Steve Ryplen and Edward Churla, Jr.

The annual meeting of the St. Paul's United Church took place on Monday evening, January 25th in the church clubroom.

The chairman for the evening was Rev. R. MacAulay. Mr. Owen acting as secretary.

There was a goodly number present to hear the reports of the various organizations which were very satisfactory, each group having worked hard to achieve a sound basis for the work of the church.

Much more could be done with a little more co-operation on the part of the members and adherents. It means a little harder work in the year 1960 for all of us, so please do your best and turn out to help swell the workers for God's Kingdom.

There were six new members elected to the board of stewards. Lunch was served after the meeting adjourned.

With reference to refereeing of the games, President Corson has stated that he is well satisfied with refereeing in all places and that all games have been quite clean with most of the penalties being minor "m's" with only a few majors being given out by the officials, who are strict.

Mr. Corson commended referees Johnson of Cranbrook, Hinchberger of Great Falls and George Jenkins of Coleman, all of whom have attended referee schools.

Mr. Corson is of the opinion that Lethbridge should choose and hold one referee for all home and out-of-town games and that the team should abide by his decisions whether it is for or against his team.

Mr. Corson has also stated that refereeing of games will remain as is with two referees on the ice, — one from the visiting team, who will be chief referee and one from the home team.

F. W. Guerard Passes

Funeral services were conducted in St. Paul's United Church in Coleman at 11:30 o'clock on Saturday morning by the Rev. Rod MacAulay for Fred Watson Guerard, who passed away in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital on Thursday following a long period of ill health.

A large attendance turned out which showed the high esteem in which he was held.

Following service in the church the remains were forwarded to the Calgary Crematorium where further services were held at 4:30 p.m. after which cremation was made.

Present at the church in Coleman were an honor guard from the RCME unit at Blaimore and honorary pallbearers, representative of Coleman Summit Lodge, AF&AM, were in attendance.

Mr. Guerard, 51 years of age, was born in Toronto, Ont., on October 28, 1909. He spent his boyhood in Port Arthur and received his education at St. Boniface College in Winnipeg. He came to Coleman in 1931 and was employed on the office staff of the McGillivray Creek Coal Company, now the Coleman Collieries as an accountant.

He took an active interest in community affairs and during the 1930's and 1940's acted as secretary for many community projects.

He was WO2 with the 31st Technical Squadron RCME, Blaimore, and was a past master of Summit Lodge, No. 30, AF&AM.

He is survived by his wife Emily Calgary, one son Richard of Coleman, one son Richard of Calgary and a daughter Diana of Nelson, B. C., and his mother in Port Arthur, Ont.

Coleman Minor Hockey

This year, Coleman has been enjoying a very good season for hockey in the minor leagues.

There are approximately 150 boys engaged in this sport, with six pee wee teams, two bantam teams and a team each of midgets and juveniles.

The Coleman Athletic Association is sponsoring the minor hockey and have purchased uniforms for the teams competing. It is a little discouraging to find only a few faithful supporters attending these games — mainly some parents of players in the pee wee league.

The provincial playoffs are now underway, with two entries from Coleman — the juveniles and midgets.

The juveniles have already played their first game against Taber, tying at two goals each. The second game will be played here in Coleman on Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. The midgets will host the Medicine Hat team in the first game of two here on Sunday at 9:30 p.m.

These two games at the weekend should provide fans with some good hockey, and the boys need your support, and a few cheers could make quite a difference to them. Come out and show the boys that Coleman is behind them.

Sanji Kimoto Celebrates His 90th Birthday

Sanji Kimoto of Crows Nest, B.C., was honored at a family gathering to celebrate his 90th birthday. For the occasion some 30 relatives and close friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. "Automa" "Bumpo" Kimoto, Mr. Kimoto's son and daughter-in-law, where all enjoyed a family supper.

During the evening Mr. Kimoto was called upon and presented with a purse of money after which each family presented the old-timer with a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimoto reside at Crows Nest and both are enjoying good health.

Blaimore Woman Victim Of Highway Accident

A 53-year-old Blaimore widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Grena, was knocked down and killed by a careless driver here at approximately 6:15 Friday, on highway three, within the Blaimore town limits, at the eastern end of town, just across from the playground park.

Terrific Impact
Mrs. Grena, who had been going out of visit friends at the time, was walking west on the highway when struck by the west-bound passenger car. The force of the impact knocked her out of her over-shoes and shoes.

It is believed she was walking on the highway to avoid the slushy muddy sidewalk in this section of the town.

Chief Constable Robert Dunlop, assisted by RCMP, investigated.

Body Identified
The body was identified about an hour after the accident by John Kubas, a boarder at the Grena home. Hall's Funeral Service in Blaimore is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Grena was born in Kravani, Czechoslovakia, in 1907. She came to Canada in 1936, to join her late husband, Frank, who died three years ago. She was of the Catholic faith.

She is survived by one son, Will, 11, and a sister in New York, and her father, two brothers and a sister in Czechoslovakia.

Cause Remanded

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS

In my opinion, the main business of government is to govern. There are, however, certain fields where government has a place in the operation of services. The other day J. S. Vanderploeg told a meeting of purchasing agents what he thought were proper fields for government.

"Certainly we do not want a private army, neither do we want the collection of taxes farmed out," he said. He went on to state that in the postal service, public highways, sewers, sidewalks and administration of justice the government has a legitimate function.

And then he got into the thorny problem of where the line should be drawn between legitimate government activity and private business. He thought that government generally ought to stay out of fields where it could be defined as a seller of goods and services in competition with others.

"But I am afraid," he said, "it will get more and more competitive with printers, publishers and many other occupations unless all people in private business are aware of what's going on and are not afraid to speak out."

I think more men and women would speak out if they ever stopped to realize that it is the taxpayer who makes possible all the social services the government does undertake. If government continues to increase the number of business operations it takes over — the number of taxpaying operations will get less and less. Government corporations pay no taxes, and seldom make a profit.

Who is going to be the last taxpayer?

He will certainly have a hefty bill to pay. When everyone else is finally on the government payroll in one way or another, that last lonely fellow is going to have to dig very deep indeed.

And the government payroll is not as generous as some are inclined to think. I know men in the civil service who have been overworked and underpaid for years. The workers in the civil service get too little, the loafers in the civil service get too much; and there are far too many of the latter. It is not that they want to be lazy; there are just too many of them for the amount of work required!

HOME TOWN PRIDE

My wife and I carry on a constant battle over who has the best home town. I was a Manitou boy; my wife swears allegiance to Ochre River.

So many tales had my wife told about the goings-on in Ochre when she was a girl that my daughter, Kathy, (age ten) couldn't wait to go there. Finally she and I hit the trail to Ochre to visit her grandmother.

Kathy was thrilled. We had a meal in the restaurant and her comment was "My but the meals in these small town restaurants are delicious, aren't they?" It was Saturday night. The town was packed with visiting farmers, so that there was scarcely a parking spot left on Main Street. Ochre's normal population of 400-odd was swollen to at least 465, and Kathy was impressed. "Gee, Mom," she said "when we returned, 'you sure are lucky to come from a place like Ochre River — I just love it there.'"

This was rubbing father's pride the wrong way. "Next week-end," I told her, "I'll take you to Manitou. Now that's a real town!"

So Kathy and I hit the trail again — There was Machiavellian cunning in my choice of a day to visit Manitou. Kathy and I arrived just as Santa Claus was getting into his cutter on the outskirts of town. We turned up Main Street just in time to be part of their wonderful parade.

There were clowns and animals, and a truck full of colored balloons let loose on the street, and there were youngsters and oldsters by the hundreds looking on. Manitou — always a busy town — was bigger and gayser than ever.

When the visit was over and we started home, Kathy heaved a big sigh. "Gee, Dad," she said, "Manitou is even bigger than Ochre River!" "Don't tell me," I said smugly. — "Tell your mother!"

It was a victory — but the battle goes on. My wife continues to brag about Ochre River and brushes off the above event as the cunning connivance of a father to take advantage of his young, impressionable daughter.

Home town pride is never vanquished!

"Electricity Builds Jobs" Is Theme For 1960

February 7th to 12th is National Electrical Week, marking the 113th anniversary of Thomas Edison's birth.

Edison brought electricity out of the laboratory and into practical use for the benefit of all mankind. He worked untiringly to develop the first practical electric light bulb, and with it, the equipment needed to bring it into our homes.

Edison founded an industry that has become one of the nation's largest and most vital — an industry that has put the magic of electricity to work in a thousand ways that contribute to the strength and prosperity of the nation. An industry that continues to play an increasing part in Canada's development — providing equipment for four-fifths of all work in manufacturing for example. Yes, from forest and farm to end-products "electricity builds jobs."

So, during National Electrical Week this year, we salute the worlds most versatile servant — electricity. Electricity keeps you warm in winter, cool in the summer. It turns night into day at the flick of a switch. It brings you entertainment, cooks your food, does your washing and in so many ways makes your life easier and more enjoyable. Have you ever thought just how inexpensive all these electrical servants are? The average size living room can be vacuumed for about half a cent. With the flick of a switch, electricity does a week's wash for the average family for less than a nickel.

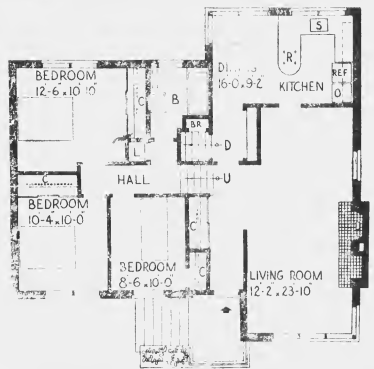

National Electrical Week has been officially declared by many of our premiers and mayors — a salute to the 200,000 skilled Canadians of the electrical industry whose products and services are designed to serve the highly specialized needs of our growing nation.

Architect's Unusual Design Provides Four-Level Interior

Designed by architect Paul Meschino, of Toronto, this split-level house actually has four levels. The main living area contains a large living room as well as a kitchen and dining room. From this area there are five steps up to the three bedrooms and bathroom and the come number of steps down to the entrance hall, utility room and garage. The lowest level is located beneath the living area where there is space for a games room and heating equipment. The combined living and dining room has a fireplace and provision for wood storage. The kitchen features built-in oven and range unit, as well as space for a dining table. The architect has also provided single suite and closet space.

The total floor area is 1,175 square feet, excluding garage, and the exterior dimensions are 40 feet by 35 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 739, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

First meeting of the Provincial-Municipal Advisory Committee, as proposed under the Alberta government's Five Year Plan, was held recently at Edmonton. Chairman of the committee (seated) is the Hon. A. J. Hooke, Minister of Municipal Affairs. Hon. A. R. Patrick, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Industry and Development, (second from left) is the other government members to the committee. The others, from left to right, are J. M. McKay, president, and Gordon Moyer, vice-president, representing the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, and Ross Ellis of High River, and J. M. McAfee of Red Deer, representing the Union of Alberta Municipalities. The committee is set up to evaluate and recommend to the Cabinet, or to the Associations concerned, ideas and suggestions of mutual interest originating from either group. The committee will meet as requirements warrant.

Bunny 'Spiel Set For April 14 - 17

The Blairmore Curling Club have announced this week that the Easter Bunny Bouspiel will be held in the Blairmore arena commencing April 14th through the 16th, 16th and 17th.

The well-known 'spiel will again feature five competitions and all rinks entering will be guaranteed five games. The first 88 rinks applying for entry will be accepted.

The entry fee of $30 must accompany the applications for entry to be sent to R. H. "Dick" Morgan at Blairmore.

The bouspiel will be played on 10 sheets of artificial ice which include four in the curling rink and an additional six will be laid out in the skating arena.

All matched rocks will be used in the bouspiel which draws entries from all over British Columbia, Alberta, and last year a rink was entered from Winnipeg, Man.

The affair will start at 8 p.m. Thursday evening, April 14th, when two draws will be played—one at 8 p.m. and the other at 10 p.m. in order to eliminate one early draw Saturday morning and one early draw on Sunday morning.

Prog. Conservatives Of Alberta Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association will be held late in February. This timing could provide a setting for the liveliest conference the Tories have held.

The spark set by the University P. C. group could erupt into fireworks. Resolutions passed by these young Progressive Conservatives have been carefully appraised by the provincial executive committee. While the committee considered the criticism was not true, have asked the University P.C.s to prepare plans for the policy, publicity and financing of the PC party that would be workable and practical. These documents, if presented to the conference, could be the highlight of an otherwise run-of-mill gathering.

The Edmonton Young Progressive Conservatives under the presidency of Mr. Louis Hyndman, are considering several resolutions which will be presented to the conference.

These young people believe that their enthusiasm and new ideas are needed in the Progressive Conservative Party. At the time of meeting the federal parliament and provincial legislature will be in session.

This will provide a very colorful backdrop for the reports from the 17 federal members and the lone provincial member.

Mr. Roy Deyell, provincial president, will have served two terms in office and it is likely the delegates will be asked to consider several candidates. With their leader, Mr. W. J. C. Kirby taking up his law practice in Red Deer after a year of travel around the province, the presidency will increase in importance.

The Progressive Conservatives will be looking for the best possible candidate.

President Deyell has had the backing of all party members during his term of office and it is likely he could retain the post, but there will no doubt be other aspirants for this office.

The annual meeting committee in Edmonton is under the joint chairmanship of Mr. Jack Kennedy and Mr. Al Cooke. Other members of the committee are Mr. Lou Hyndman, Mr. Bill Pettigrew, Mr. Peter Power and Dr. Arnold Lane.

The date has been set as February 26 and 27 at the Macdonald Hotel in Edmonton.

The Alberta Women's Progressive Conservative party will hold their annual meeting at the same time. Mrs. W. H. Pettigrew, provincial president, will chair the women's meetings.

The YPC group will hold their convention on Friday, February 26. Mr. Henry Beaumont, provincial president, will be in Edmonton to conduct the meetings.

Red Cross Supplies Leave For Morocco

Because hundreds of Alberta women give their time and effort to sew and knit for Red Cross, paralytic victims in Morocco will soon be resting more comfortably in warm bedding and night attire.

In response to an urgent appeal for supplies for Morocco nine cases of bedding and nightwear left Red Cross provincial headquarters in Calgary by air at the week-end for Montreal. From Montreal the supplies will be air-lifted to the League of Red Cross Societies for distribution by the Portuguese Red Cross.

The Moroccan shipment, which contains close to 500 items made by Red Cross women's work groups in Alberta, will help provide comfort for hundreds of women and children paralyzed through consumption of adulterated cooking oil containing poisonous additive.

The Alberta shipment is part of the over-all assistance being provided by the Canadian Red Cross Society which is also sending a team of medical specialists to provide care and treatment for the paralytic victims.

With shipment of the Moroccan supplies a total of 53 cases containing over 14,000 articles have been shipped from Alberta in the past year to aid disaster victims and refugees in Greece, Korea, Poland, Lebanon and Japan.

Letter to the Editor

Calgary, Alberta,

Dec. 31, 1959

Dear Friends of Red Cross: As the Anniversary Year of Red Cross draws to a close it is our privilege to acknowledge the outstanding assistance and support which we have received from news media in this province during the past twelve months.

The past year has been both exciting and challenging for our Society. Highlighted by the International Conference of Junior Red Cross, which saw Red Cross youth from around the world assemble in Canada to plan for the future, the year was also marked by greater Red Cross endeavors to provide international aid to the sick and the homeless. New challenges to maintain Red Cross services in our own provinces were also met.

In all our varied endeavors we were aided in promoting the work of our Society by Alberta press, radio and television personnel. For your continued assistance we say a heartfelt "Thank You" with the hope that happiness and good health will be enjoyed by the members of your staff during the New Year.

Yours sincerely,
D. H. TOMLINSON,
Commissioner,
Alberta Division,
Canadian Red Cross Society.

Leap Year ... 1960!

It's Leap Year again and you can blame the Scots for declaring it open season on bachelors.

They probably saw the custom of letting a woman pop the question as a way to put money in the treasury and take spinsters off the welfare rolls.

According to the research of the World Encyclopedia, Scotland is said to have decreed in 1288 that ladies "of bothe highe and lowe estate" shall have the privilege of proposing during leap years.

If a man refused the offer, he was fined as much as one pound—unless he could show that another woman had a prior claim on his affections.

The ladies, however, had to give fair warning that they were out to catch a man. If the edge of a scarlet flannel petticoat wasn't clearly visible, a man was absolved from paying the forfeit.

France reportedly passed a similar law, and the ladies of Florence and Genoa are said to have been given the privilege before Columbus sailed to America.

The gallant English supposedly didn't need a law to make them give the fair but single sex a break. But they backed up the custom by depriving a man of benefit of clergy if he scoffed at a leap year

Chances are you'll never tie up alongside C.S.L.'s flagship T.R. McLagan at your Imperial Esso service station. But she's an Imperial customer too and an important one to you.

How ships like this giant grain carrier help Imperial keep the cost of gasoline down

The fuel used by the T. R. McLagan is a thick, heavy, black oil—quite different from the light volatile gasoline your car needs.

If gasoline were the only product made from crude, it would cost much more to produce. Instead, research and refining specialists in companies like Imperial have developed ways to utilize all parts of the crude, from light gases for making plastics, for example, to heavy asphalt for pavement. In between are hundreds of other products, like oils, greases and fuel used by the T. R. McLagan and lubricants for your car.

Imperial's efficiency in getting everything out of the crude oil means the prices of all products are low. That's one reason government figures show that in the last five years the average price of things people buy has gone up nearly 16 per cent, while gasoline has actually gone down about half of one per cent.

*to see the "Face of Service"

Put yourself in Mr. Brown's place - haven't you ever wondered about your electric bill? What services it represents? Mr. Brown has wondered, and his daughter, Dianne is curious, too. Mrs. Brown, working in that comfortable all-electric kitchen is probably more interested in the results of her electric cooking than in the source. She's interested in people, though - she likes to know who they are and what they do. So, we at Calgary Power have arranged to take this family on tour. We want to show them our company from beginning to end, how it works, what it does. More important, we want them to meet the people who make it work. Join their tour, on this page, in the months ahead.

Mrs. Roberto Wood To Adjudicate C.N.P. Festival

Don. J. Thornton, secretary of the Crows Nest Pass Musical Festival, has announced this week that Mrs. Roberto Wood, L.R.S.M. of Victoria, B. C., will be adjudicator for the affair which is scheduled to be held in the Elks hall in Blairmore, on March 21st, 22nd and 23rd.

Mrs. Wood has had a very general musical training and wide experience as a teacher-adjudicator and examiner for the Western Board.

Her early musical training was received in Winnipeg, Man. Later study in piano was with Harold Craxton, Louis Kontner and the late Harold Samuel in London, Eng.

Mrs. Wood received all her choral training from the late Sir Hugh Robertson in Glasgow, Scotland, and from Dr. Thomas Armstrong of Oxford, England. All her knowledge of singing and its fundamentals she owes to the late Campbell McInnes of Toronto, Ont.

The three day festival, held in Blairmore each spring, has been revived by the Blairmore Lions Club who are again sponsoring the cultural affair this spring.

The festival draws entries from all over Southern Alberta and British Columbia.

Crows Nest Pass Cancer Society Annual Meeting

The Crows Nest Pass Cancer Society held a meeting in the main school in Blairmore last week when plans were discussed for a workshop to be held in the Pass.

The workshop will be held in the I.O.O.F. hall in Bellevue and tentative date set for the affair is April 4.

Division representatives will spend an afternoon and evening in the Pass and will display various equipment used in cancer treatment, new types of dressing and other interesting phases of the Society's large program. Films will also be shown and talks given on cancer work.

During the meeting Mrs. H. Neddoo of Coleman gave a comprehensive report on the annual Cancer Society meeting held in the McDonald Hotel in Edmonton on December 3, 4 and 5, which was attended by herself and Mrs. W. Brown, Hillcrest.

Danger Lurks Near Thin Ice

Every winter ice accidents bring tragedy into the life of some Alberta family.

Every winter these tragedies could be avoided if the rules of ice safety were observed. A knowledge of safety rules not only helps to prevent accidents but also aids rescue operations if accidents do occur.

Red Cross Water Safety officials stress the following safety measures to ensure "Fun Without Fatalities" when participating in outdoor winter recreation.

- 1.—Make sure the ice on rivers, sloughs and lakes is at least two inches thick before you skate.
- 2.—Have a ladder, pole, plank or tree branch available in case of a break-through.
- 3.—Stay close to shore — do not gather in groups unless the ice is thick.
- 4.—Remember thin ice bends and will trip skaters who frequently fall and break through.
- 5.—Small bodies of water such as pools, ponds, lakes and slow-flowing streams offer the safest conditions for outdoor skating. Large bodies of water do not freeze as fast and ice formed over swiftly moving water is hazardous.
- 6.—Testing ice with a hockey stick or ski pole is a foolish practice. —neither of these objects has sufficient weight to be of any use. Throwing stones is also worthless as a test for ice and creates an additional hazard when stones freeze into the surface.
- 7.—Skaters should remember that new ice weakens with any rise in temperature. It is unsafe to go on hazardous areas of newly-frozen surface when alone.
- 8.—Skating, ice boating or skiing and tobogganing behind cars after dark is dangerous.
- 9.—The beginning of Spring marks the season of rotten ice. At this time of the year no one should venture on frozen rivers, lakes or ponds. Two feet of firm looking ice may be saturated with water and the slightest pressure will cause it to crumble.

Alcoholism Cost To Industry Said "Staggering"

Cost of alcoholism to Alberta business, industry and the community is probably at least $10,000,000 annually, according to J. Geo. Strachan, executive director of the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta.

"That is a conservative estimate," said Mr. Strachan, "since the practice we call the 'mutual cover-up' hides so much from top management. The worker with the drinking problem is protected by fellow-workers, sometimes by foremen or supervisors, by sympathetic secretaries, sales managers or office managers, until the illness alcoholism has reached a stage much more damaging than if earlier action had been taken."

Latest estimates indicate about 7,000 men and women engaged in Alberta's business and industry are recognizably alcoholic, and another 12,000 have increasingly serious problems arising out of their use of alcoholic beverages.

Mr. Strachan said "The cost to business and industry is 'staggering', and that is not a pun. It is deadly serious. Apart from the misery suffered by the alcoholic and his family, the cost of alcoholism to industry—in absenteeism, accidents, inefficient production, waste and scrapage, disruption of staff morale, families on relief, medical and hospital costs, law enforcement, jail costs—is beyond exact computation. One public health administrator has reported that he could cut his budget by one-third if it were not for alcoholism."

Alcoholism is an illness that can be successfully treated, and the majority of alcoholic workers are most valuable to their employers. The Foundation's aim is prevention of alcoholism through education, understanding and early recognition.

Pretty Wedding Is Solemnized

St. Paul's United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, January 23rd, when Evelyn Anna Niemeyer, daughter of the late Mr. Henry Niemeyer and Mrs. Catherine Niemeyer, became the bride of Mr. Charles Allan Truitt of Hillcrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Truitt. Rev. R. MacAulay officiated.

The bride entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. S. Penney. She wore a waltz length gown of white satin overlaid with crystalline lace cut on princess lines, the bodice featuring lily-point sleeves. Her fingertip veil misted from a pearl and sequin headpiece. Her only jewelry was an aurora borealis necklace. She carried a bouquet of red roses with white streamers.

Miss Lois Truitt, sister of the groom, wore a waltz length gown of yellow overlaid satin with nylon, and she carried a bouquet of yellow mums and white carnations with white streamers in her capacity as bridesmaid.

Mr. Henry Niemeyer, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Mr. A. Truitt of Pincher Creek, sang three songs — "Because", "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer".

A reception was held in the Elks hall with 60 guests present.

The head table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with tapers and bouquets.

Red Rod MacAulay said Grace and Mr. Henry Niemeyer proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling the bride wore a tuxedo suit with matching accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Truitt will reside in Hillcrest.

Land Purchases Being Made For Alta. Gas Trunk Line

M. T. Houston, representative of R. D. Spittal and Associates, Ltd., Right of Way agents for the Alberta Gas Trunk Line, was in the Crows Nest Pass district during last week arranging for the right-of-way for the proposed gas line through the Crows Nest Pass district.

Numerous land owners on the proposed route of the gas line have been contacted with a view to selling the right-of-way to the company. It was pointed out the gas line would be built of 30-inch pipe, to be buried three feet underground.

Mr. Houston stated it would not be fenced with the exception of areas where valves or other projecting equipment might show.

He added that any timber cut on a right-of-way was either turned over to the property owner or sold and the owner paid the sale price.

Of great interest to the Pass towns is the fact that Mr. Houston stated, that if gas export permits were obtained, the Alberta Gas Trunk Line would start construction of the line as soon as the weather breaks.

ther breaks.

Mr. Houston said the proposed pipe line would enter the Crows Nest Pass on the west at the Alberta-British Columbia border, near the old highway, and proceed east to a point behind the Chinook Motel, where it would turn south, cross the highway and go south of the CPR tracks, thence east on the south side of the Crows Nest River to the air port site.

It would then continue east, south of Coleman, through the Michalsky and A. Cervo properties. The line would then be laid east on the south side of the Bodio sawmill, on the southern limits of the town of Blairmore, east to Frank where it would turn north near the Horej property and proceed northeast to the Old Man River at Lundbreck highway.

way. It would then go straight north to West Longview, through the Sarcee Indian Reserve, thence west to Cochrane, turning north to the Berland River gasfield in northwestern Alberta.

Starting west from the Alberta-British Columbia border the projected line would traverse a section of southeastern British Columbia and thence south to Washington, Oregon and California gas market areas.

Reliable sources indicate that the Westcoast Transmission Co. has purchased the old airport site west of Coleman, where a line from Savannah Creek field would carry gas for cleaning to a proposed sulphur plant on this site.
